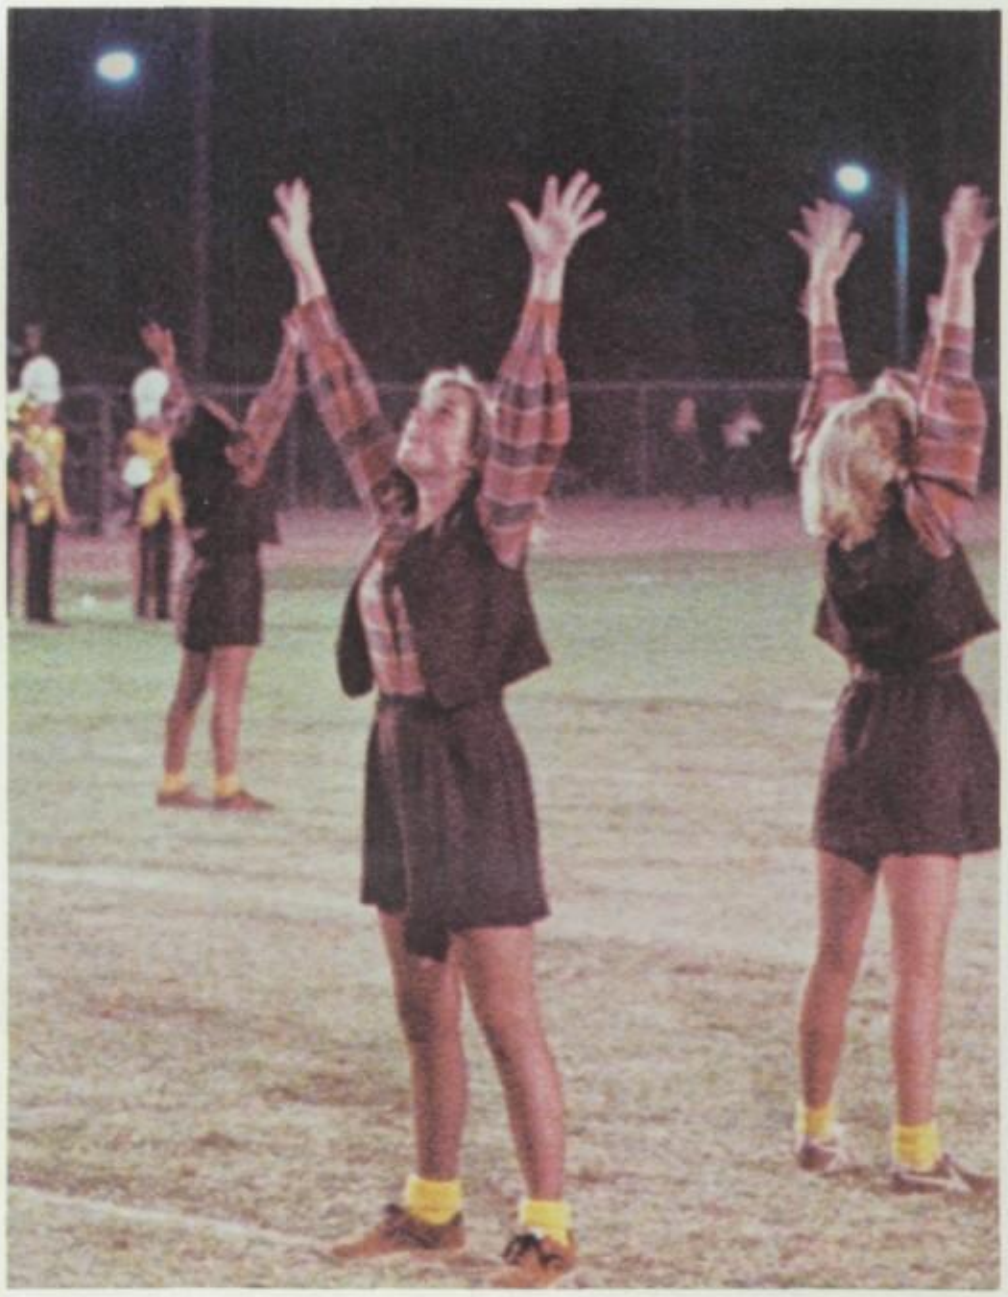
p.e. is more than muscle building

A promise of snow reawakens the downhill dream. What you mean it's really going to snow in southern California? We are really going skiing? I could see it now a world champ on the snow. Yes but, first you have to learn the basic fundamentals of skiing in Coach Sadich's class. What in the world is a fundamental? How to fall down ya dummy! I can do that without learning. I bet that you don't know how to fall down on snow skis. You have to learn to lean to the rear and to fall down on the back of your pants. Then you have to learn to ski on the slopes. First of all you should go to the rental shop. Once you're there rent some skis that are the right size for your height and also your weight. Secondly buy yourself some boots that are the right size and comfortable. OK, after I get my skis and my boots then I'm ready to go right? Definitely not. You still need to rent some poles. Poles are metal sticks that you use to help you keep your balance and to help you push off or start. All right so now I'm ready to go show my stuff. Another point forgot, the chicks should wear some really tight pants and sweaters. They guys should get a good pair of glasses to watch the girls in really tight pants and sweaters. Alright, that's the best part, I like skiing already. Well skiing isn't just girls, it can be a dangerous sport. Sadich taught us terminology that you need to know as a beginner. OK, remember your basics and don't forget anything that he taught you. Let's go and find some snow and get started. Hold on, not so fast. Make sure you always ski with someone, preferably someone who already knows how to ski for your first time. Alright let's go! Wait a minute I can't forget my glasses.

band and drill come together



Don Lugo's Drill team began a new adventure this year going into combined competition with the band.

They were judged differently this year. They hoped to do as good this year as last year. Last year they ended the year with five first place and two second place trophies.

Mrs. Kennedy has been very happy to have the band playing with them and is very excited about going into future competition with new people and a whole new format in the years to come.

Don Lugo's band launched an entirely new page in its history this past year going into competition for the first time in new uniforms while accompanying the Drill Team — Finally it's all together!

Bob Jones, Miss Basketball, and Eric Dunnam, Ms. El Camino Real, were voted A.S.B. honors by a wildly cheering crowd of students during a pep rally to kick off the 1978-79 football season.

Bob, escorted by Mr. Pusztai and Eric with his great "wiggle walk" escorted by Mr. Clark thrilled the crowd as thhey entered the quad.

Suspense filled the air as the contestants lined up for judging. The contest helped make DAL's pep rally a huge success along with the help of the Drill Team, cheerleaders, and songleaders.

Mr. Clark said that pie was his favorite dessert. Miss Brinderson happily antagonized Debbie to squish it all over his entire face and neck. The secret wish of all Don Lugo students was to cream Mr. Clark with the pie but, Debra Mears was happy to have this honor. The Pep Rally was highlighted by a contest as to which class could yell the loudest. This was the first class competition of one of the greatest years Don Lugo's ever had. The class with the most points at the end of the year get to go on an outing to the beach or Magic Mountain. Mr. Pustzai, Mr. Thomas, and Mr. Gomez tried to determine the winners. The freshmen yelled but not loud but, loud enough. The juniors tried to hold ground but, the SOPHOMORES won it with their BIG mouths. Outstanding big mouths were Darren Braulik, Ronnie Hammond, and Lisa Walton. The songleaders, the cheerleaders, the drill team and the pep squad as usual did a great job getting everybody in a peppy mood.

Don Lugo defeated their challengers in the semi-final rounds of competition, moving them into the finals with O.C.H.S. where they were defeated 2-1.

people make things happen

The school is made up of many different people and events. Everyday classroom grind, dances and field trips are all a part of these people. Lunch being almost everyone's favorite subject, is a big part of everyday. Some prefer the quad, others a table in the field, while others leave or play frisbee, baseball or football. Frisbee looks to have been the trend of this year. Everyone has a group, the jocks, the soces, the loadies, and the mexicans. All these little cliques are prevalent throughout classrooms, around campus and even around the city. They all have their own preferences and standards of fashion, behavior, morals, and pastimes. They are all different yet all the same in that they are all a part of this school. This book is not dedicated to any particular group but to everyone involved with the school, students and faculty alike. Although it will try to cover all levels, all events, and all groups impartially, all that can be expected is the best humanly possible. Because the yearbook is made up of the people who make it, who all have their groups and preferences.

what's happening at dal

Even behind the construction Don Lugo is not letting that interfere with having fun. Even though Don Lugo is a closed campus students can find other ways of entertaining themselves some legal some not so legal. Our water polo team is smashing the ball as shooting for a victory; this is one of our various extracurricular activities for students to consume their time. After school, Lugo gets together and parties, after they've spent many hours indulging themselves in their homework, of course. Dances have been one of our favorite activities. There is always something going on somewhere. The busy activities between classes, hurried chatter, opening of locker doors and then slams after everything that has fallen out has been picked up. After school while everyone waits on buses the events of the day, evening homework, T.V., tests, teachers, and plans for the next day are discussed. School life is most definitely a busy life.

students make the teachers

What would teachers be without students? Like orphans out in the cold. Like a hand without fingers. Like Christmas without a tree. Students are the reason for teachers and without the students how many would be truck drivers, bums, waitresses, or business men? Teaching is their choosen profession because they are given meaning and feel they have a purpose when they educate the younger population. If students would look at school as the older generations contribution to their wellbeing school might be a better place to be.

winter sports festival is new and exciting.

Fireworks, Floatmaking, Homecoming Queens, were all part of the festivities during the Winter Sports Festival.

Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors were busy with the construction of their class floats. At the Winter Sports Festival game, the floats were displayed before judges and the decision was made that the Freshmen float was the winner with the slogan "Defeet the Romans" and two huge pink feet. The Homecoming Queens: Priscilla Plueger, for freshmen, Karla Wilkinson, for sophomores, and Debbie Yates for Juniors, were crowned that evening, and fireworks topped off the festivities by brightly spelling D.A.L.

Leadership is an organized group of students who were selected and interviewed at random to represent the student body. Debbie Fix stated that she feels that they have a responsibility to represent and to guide the student body. They have participated in several fund raising events and organized a lot of activities. Without them the year would not have been as much fun. Providing for lunch time entertainment, surprising events, days filled with laughs, and aiding the ASB in every way possible, Leadership was a welcome addition to DAL's curriculum.

Don Lugo has had dances that the A.S.B. has prepared. The people who make up the Student Body are: Kris Harris- President, Mary Ann Yuhas-Vice President, Glenda Johnson-Treasurer, Rita McGrath-secretary, Victor Herrara-Public Relations and Entertainment, John Moore-Athletic Commissioner, Nickie Summers-Pep Commissioner. The associated Student Body is really important to the students and school, they are interested in the welfare of the students and are concerned about students getting involved with the participation and involvement of student activities.

In the fall of this year, DAL had class competitions between the three classes, Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors. To start the competitions, the Pep Squad had their individual classes in groups to yell the three letters representing DAL. In that competition the Sophomores took first place. The Juniors were second, and the Freshmen close behind. The obstacle course was one of the most exciting of all competitions. The Freshmen were quick to take the first place, with Juniors in second. Each class had to get a certain total of points which led to an end- of - the -year field trip. The students really seemed to enjoy getting involved and competing against each other.

The Auto Shop elective has attracted most of the boys in its first year run. In fact more than any other elective. Putting cars together and taking them apart again, is what the boys like to do. They also learn the mechanical operations of the motor, the way the cars work in general. DAL's first auto teacher, John Devine, died shortly before the end of the first semester. His replacement, Coach Dale King, stated, "It is really working out great this year and the boys seem interested."

It's not the easiest elective you can join, but Miss Bowering replied "If the students work hard at what they want to achieve I believe they can make anything possible."

child developement into interaction

There's a new elective many students are talking about, and that is Child Development. Mrs. Crites, who is in charge of the class, she said she was really surprised about how many people wanted to be in the new elective. She said "Even though this is the first DAL has had a class like this, we've had a big turnout."

The main idea Mrs. Crites wants to emphasize in this class is: How to handle children, how children's behavior develops, and most of all how to care for a child properly. A lot of work goes into the class which the majority of the students are girls. Mrs. Crites said "Although most of my class consists of girls, I do have a few boys who are interested."

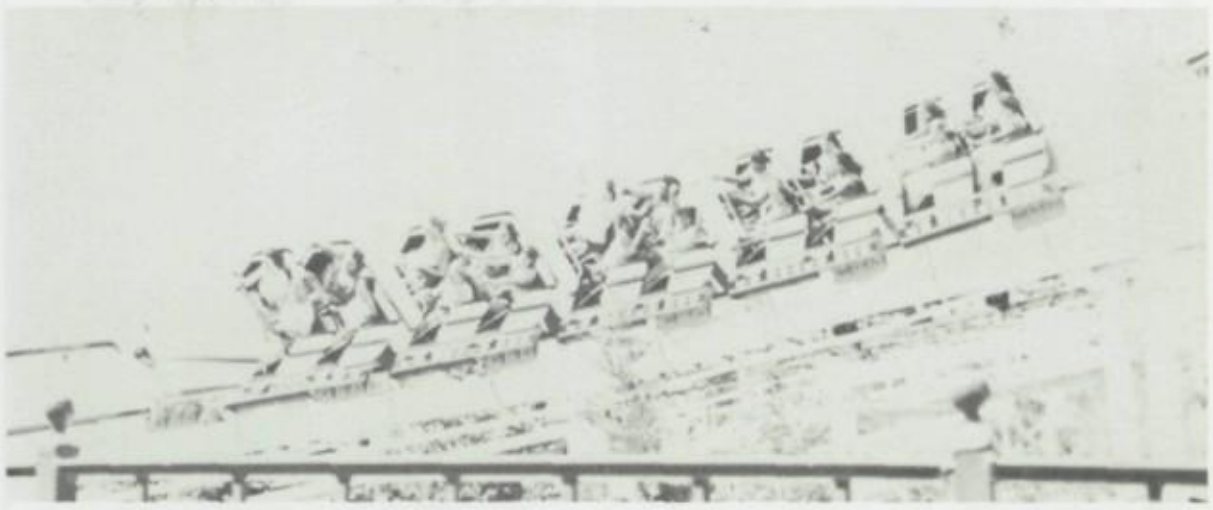
C.S.F. in action



C.S.F., which stands for California Scholastic Federation, was in action all year long. Advisors Miss Holdgrafer and Mr. Schneider have really been in action. Miss Holdgrafer, who has been here since Don Lugo first started, commented; "C.S.F. is not a club where everyone can join, C.S.F. is for students with two A's and a B or more, C.S.F. is not an active club for everyone, it's just for those honor students."

For the first semester Miss Holdgrafer advises since she also coaches J.V. softball. Mr. Schneider takes over for the second semester.

The main goal of the club is to set up college scholarships, which everyone is working extra hard on. Both advisors say they want to give recognition to those students who have high grade point averages. Mr. Schneider seriously commented: "We want the club to work together on one unity."

boosters are in the dough for dal.

Without the help of our parents, teachers and volunteers, Don Lugo would not have the money to play sports and extracurricular activities. They have provided money for the organizations such as Drill Team, and swimming team and others so that they would have transportation to and from various events. The Booster Club led by Mr. Stueland has raised a tremendous amount of money to keep Don Lugo alive and running. In gratitude and appreciation Mr. Stueland, the president, received from the students a plaque for all the tremendous hard work that he has done in fundraising and organizing various activities for the student body.

Landslide Prop. 13

By RAY PLUTKO
PB Staff Writer

Interscholastic athletics on the 1977-78 school year will sound its last hoorah this weekend . . .

. . . or will it be the final verse to "auld lang syne?"

It's generally accepted that last puff of colored smoke from the starter's gun at the annual State track and field championship brings down the prep curtain, but there's a small matter of a curtain call scheduled for Tuesday evening.

Depending on your personal tastes, the curtain call will come under the guise of the political arena — alias initiative, proposition, Jarvis-Gann, Behr, No. 8, No. 13, etc.

Generally speaking, there's also been a hypothesis that the political and interscholastic spectrums shall never meet.

Just for the record, however, the two may cross paths Tuesday — something on the order of a solar eclipse once a lifetime.

Before climbing to the defensive though, the case in point here is not to weigh the pros and/or cons of either initiative. At the same time, it might be interesting to speculate what the aftermath of either proposition may lend to the field of competitive athletics at the secondary level.

Needless to say, the tenor of the coaching profession is one of apprehension.

Providing the impetus for the anxiety is the general belief among those associated with interscholastic athletics that "lucky" 13 will receive an affirmative plurality.

Accompanying the above suspicion is a fear that the high school athletic program will not only be diluted, but in some instances, completely curtailed.

Correlation of the initiative's passage and the possible curtailment of the secondary prep program rests with the monies derived by the school district as it relates to the available tax base.

Call it what you like, but a reduction of available funds will no doubt necessitate more than a little "belt-tightening" on the respective high school campuses.

The concern is such that the CIF Southern Section inquired of its member districts that account for 476 schools, the position each might take with respect to interscholastic athletics and a sudden void in the revenue base.

Of those responding, 39 districts indicated they would totally eliminate the interscholastic program, 20 said they would reduce the number of programs and the levels of competition being offered and an additional 28 districts stated they would continue their current program with no changes.

To keep the responses in perspective, there were approximately the same number of districts indicating they would follow a "wait and see" analysis, based upon the final vote tally and what it would mean to their specific district in terms of funds.

That cross-section runs virtually true-to-form in the valley.

One superintendent, head of the largest district with five high schools, said:

"We have no tentative plan at the present in the event Proposition 13 passes. It's been my posture to wait and see and that's exactly what we will do."

If cuts must be made in the area of sports, would that decision be left to the individual school principal or the district level?

"This will strictly be a district decision and will be made at this level," answered the superintendent.

At the campus level, one principal had this to offer:

"It's a cold fact that the entire sports program could be cut off.

"And it well may happen unless another type of funding comes about and we don't see that anywhere on the horizon. Granted, we could operate with money received from ASB (associated student body) cards and gate admissions, but how far that would carry us is the one question we can't answer.

"Booster clubs, and I feel ours in particular, are great support groups, but one must be careful not to tax them with additional fund raising.

If still in doubt, could you pinpoint the percentage an athletic budget occupies of a total school budget?

Research reveals that an athletic budget is a mere two percent (that's no misprint) of the total operating tally. Now consider the fact it also provides an educational base for an average 28 per cent of the student body directly (athletes) and an additional 8 percent in the way of support groups (pep squads), that's not a bad bargain.

Another administrator added, "We challenge any other area of the curriculum to effectively operate a program for so many students at even twice that cost."

And to touch all bases, a board of education member commented, "I suppose it's always possible in a terrible budget pinch that some people who don't understand values might want to cut the athletic program, but I think parents and people in the community would rise up and insist it continue.

"If you lost athletics, you would lose one of the best supportive pillars. You would lose people who would support the whole program."

Needless to say, it's not often one runs into a bargain these days . . .

. . . the question is, will there be enough to go around when it comes time to tighten the belt?

"First of all, these people are extending themselves now and doing an excellent job. If they were to raise additional money, who or what would prevent others from asking why can't you do it every year?

"That's not a healthy situation to be in and to rest the status of student programs on."

Despite the cross-section, the focus will come — if necessary — when the decisions are made.

The word MONEY plays a major role in the area of high school athletics, but have you really examined it?

As one athletic administrator said, "Interscholastic athletic programs are not educational frills, but educational staples. Money spent on athletics is not an educational extravagance, but an educational bargain."

proposition 13 cripples athletics, Tony Degrandis (with broken leg) demonstrates.

By DAN NIEBRUGGE
PB Staff Writer

Local educators today reacted to the overwhelming victory of Proposition 13 with a wait and see attitude due to what many of them have called "the vague language and uncertainties" connected with the property tax initiative.

Pomona Supt. Charles Carpenter said his district would develop a budget consistent with the limitations placed on it by Jarvis, but would not say what those limitations are. As late as Tuesday evening, Pomona trustee C. Allen Braswell suggested that the school board not hold any meetings dealing with its budget for at least 10 days to see what develops in the courts and in the state legislature.

Pomona school board President Frances Livingston said, "The realities of public school financing in California demand that a major overhaul of our state and local tax structures is an absolute necessity. Until the governor and legislature recognize the real problems which led to Proposition 13 and take constructive action to solve those problems, the public school system in California will continue to face the brunt of public displeasure and concern with high taxes which yield often mediocre services."

Pomona trustee Don Donnelly said, voters are telling legislators what the legislators have refused to listen to for a long time. "The unfortunate thing is that local government which has been the most frugal and responsive to the local citizen will suffer the most. We will be cutting programs that are good for children, but the voters are the bosses and we will implement what they want. I do feel the state will come up with some dollars; how many I do not know."

Donnelly's optimism was not shared by a number of local superintendents who agreed that too many unanswered questions still exist.

Walnut Valley Supt. David Brown said, "I really don't know what to say. The whole thing is too fraught with unanswered questions. We are going through with identifying the many areas in which we will have to reduce costs if we experience the $2 million in lost revenues. The initiative has so many ambiguities in it that it is nearly impossible for us to know just how much money we will lose. We will be considerably less wealthy."

Chaffey high school district Supt. Mike Dirksen said he is "not completely certain what impact Proposition 13 will have on our schools. This is due to the vague language of the initiative itself, and the lack of specific information from state and governments. Our schools will be hurt unless replacement revenue is created, but there are just too many unanswered questions to be definitive now."

Dirksen's comments were echoed by Claremont Supt. Richard Kirkendall and Bonita Supt. James Johnson, whose board meets this evening at 8 p.m.; the first local board to meet following the initiative's passage.

Johnson said that his board may wait a while to see if the situation clears up before taking any action, but noted that previous information distributed by the district had estimated the closure of at least four schools.

"There are a number of districts that may not even be able to make it until the next tax collection if funds from the state are held up."

fads are forever changing.

The year 1978-79 was the year that the rock group KISS became popular with their bizarre concerts, when the scarfs from France became popular in America, when wearing skirts with leotards was the newest fashion. The "BUZZ" haircut was the most talked about subject among the girls- who identified the guys as "Macho" football players. The "Afro" was one of the popular styles among the boys. The most popular hairstyle among the girls was the feathered "swept-back" look. It used to be that only boys could wear vests, but times have changed and you see more girls wearing them. These were some of the fads of 1978-79, but times will change and new fads will take their place.

movies add fantasy,

Yes Dear Abby there really are movies and we like them a lot. There were some really great movies this year, that you can bet everyone saw. One of the biggest hits this year was "Big Wednesday". Whether you saw it with your friend or your boyfriend or girlfriend you can bet it was one movie that was watched. (even at the drive-in)

Most students enjoyed the PG and R rated movies the best, but some wish they could see X rated movies. Sorry but you will have to wait 5 to 7 years.

However, deep down in our hearts we are all Disney lovers. These comments rated PG.

setting up senior traditions

The juniors filled their year planning the jr. prom, taking leadership, setting up senior traditions and planning the senior year. Their fund raising events included: selling M&M's; selling donuts and hot chocolate in the mornings, car washes; selling stationery; 80 buttons, and stick pins. Excitement building as time grew closer to D.A.Ls first graduation, the juniors began to take pride in D.A.L.

Don Lugo's growth can also be measured by the growth of it's students. Where once it was a school populated by gangly young kids, now it's a busy campus with many young adults engaged in a whole range of activities to match their growing needs. Some of those activities are vocationally oriented and some are entertaining, but they all fill a need in the lives of growing inquiring young people. Who knows, today's novice skier could be tomorrows Olympic hope, and the FFA student shoveling feed to cows-tomorrows dairyman supplying milk to Los Angeles County.

Spanish club is one of the newer clubs on campus but it's proving to be a very stable one. Besides preparing for Cinco De Mayo and bringing in Mariochi band, the club is setting sail for its annual trip to Buena Park and the magical world of Disney Land. Senor Beccerril, the club advisor, also actively engaged in DAL athletics as the coach to the varsity soccer team, and the Spanish club is the official cheering section. It is a close knit club with lots of aspirations for the future. Who else can say "today Chino tomorrow Madrid".

"Parlez-vous francias?" is a familiar term heard quite often in the French club, and it's meant in earnest because this is one club that has its goal set to visit all that is really French.

"Jamine parle francuis", says Sam Hodson. "French cuisine and customs are different from those of America. That's why I think they're all very interesting," says Roseann Aubin. "France seems like a great place to visit," said Cheryl Grode. "French is a great language and I really like to speak it. I just wish I could speak it a little better. I hope someday I can go to France," says CoCo Bonadurer. "The French club is a really fun club and Mrs. Miller is a really good advisor. I especially like our cultural experiences," Joanne Johnson.

The advisor is Mrs. Miller. Roseann Aubin is the President. Beatrice Paredes is the Vice President, and the secretary is Joanne Johnson.

One of the many electives here at Don Lugo is photography. The class has been in curriculum for the last four years, under the direction of Mr. Rudy Gomez. Photography students learn how to use 35mm. cameras. There are certain techniques that must be learned in taking, developing and processing pictures which is the main object of the class.

Photography is also one of the most popular electives on campus. Here at DAL, you can't attend a day of school without seeing someone taking pictures. These students take the craziest shots, catching the students doing the weirdest things.

Photography really isn't a club, but around this campus it comes very close to being one, because of the closeness of the class members. Most members learn the difference between cameras. Minolta cameras verses Cannon cameras is a common argument. They look the same, but there must be some differences because those who own these brands of cameras are always disagreeing over which one is best.

Stem Cristie, Parallel, Snow Plow, Munari, GLM and Powder Cuffs-What do they all mean? It's a language all its own that belongs to the Don Lugo Ski Club, the only club on campus that causes more bruises than the Don Lugo football team. The downhill momentum of Conquistadores on the great white slopes keeps growing and growing, and may turn into one gigantic avalanche headed toward the lodge, but don't worry it only occurs a few times a year at such places as Snow Summit and Mammoth. Fun though it may be it still takes a great deal of work to put this frosty show on the road. The ski club under the direction of its president, Robby Hammond, can be seen on warm sunny days selling bake goods and other sundries to raise money for the winter trips.

Can you imagine hanging 2000 feet above the ground on the face of a cliff? Or, can you envision sliding down icy snow covered hill on your rear end totally out of control? Well if you can you should join the hiking and climbing. Many students here at Don Lugo already have and enjoy it very much.

Hiking and climbing is a very exciting and challenging club. It is also a very rewarding club because you learn the techniques of mountain climbing and the advantages of nature.

This club teaches students how to survive in the wilderness and what type of equipment a person needs for survival in the wilds when hiking. When you are in the mountains you come to respect nature and her resources. This club climbs all over Southern California. They hike in the mountains whether the sun is shining or not.

Club members learn a lot; they hike in different seasons because the equipment they need changes from seasons to season. The students who join this club become very good friends because they learn to depend on each other when hiking in the mountains. The experiences of this club last a life time because survival is the major lesson nature teaches.

hikers head for the high country.

Hiking and climbing is one of the most active clubs at your school. As a group they have fun times together besides learning how to survive in snow and climbing up the face of rocky peaks.

Mr. Kruegar, the club advisor, feels that the experiences of living in the back country is a good training ground for learning how to cope with society—eating cold beans can in some way be seen then as learning how to do without a raise when your car needs new tires.

It is also good training trying to cope for three days without taking a bath or washing your hair.

We may not have any Michelangelos or Picassos, but the Art students at Don Lugo are trying their hardest. The Art students throw pottery, design paintings, and do perspective designs.

The art room walls, and floors are covered with the years' past projects. As you can observe from these pictures the Art class must be a fun elective to take. Who knows sitting next to you may be another Andy Worhol, Victor Schultz maybe?

Pep Club is an organization which helps the Cheerleaders cheer at games and rallies. They are an important part of our school, for without them much of our school spirit would be lost.

If you haven't already seen a pep club member you can recognize one by their brown and gold jumpers and their smiling spirited faces. The best place to find them is at football games, basketball games, and other activities.

It's fun to be a Pep Club member because they do a lot of fun things like having car washes, selling candy, and bumper stickers to earn money to help support Don Lugo.

Most of all a pep squad member is known for her true spirit and dedication to D.A.L.

Don Lugo's first Junior prom, held at the beautiful Marriott Hotel in Newport Beach, was a memorable one. Students felt proud that they had taken part in a brand new tradition at DAL. The band "Life" provided entertainment. We would like to thank Mrs. Holdgrapher and the prom committee for spending their time to make sure the evening was an enjoyable one.

When the juniors look back on their junior year we are sure they will remember their prom.

DAL has really taken a step up, the dances after the football games are turning out very well.

We would like to thank: A. Anderson, J. Miller, A. McNeely, L. Smith, J. Santos, members of the dance committee, for devoting their own time to make sure each dance runs smoothly.

The dance committee plans when the dances will be held, where they will be held, bring refreshments, arrange for a band or a dejay to provide entertainment. The drill team sponsors their own "backward dance," where the girl asks the guy to the dance, giving the shy guys a break.

The junior class sponsors the junior prom so that it will be a night to remember for the students and the chaperones as well.

We would also like to thank the faculty members who patrol every dance. It is a hard job, watching all the students hustling to the music, and not want to start dancing too.

Fortunately for DAL students, there are dedicated students and faculty who care. Thanks to them, all dances are to be remembered.

rockin' to the sounds

Flashing lights, pretty girls, good-looking guys, lots of laughter and steady music, are what make a dance a good one. Of course, winning the football game or finally gettin' the girl that sits next to you in biology to go with you, make it even better.

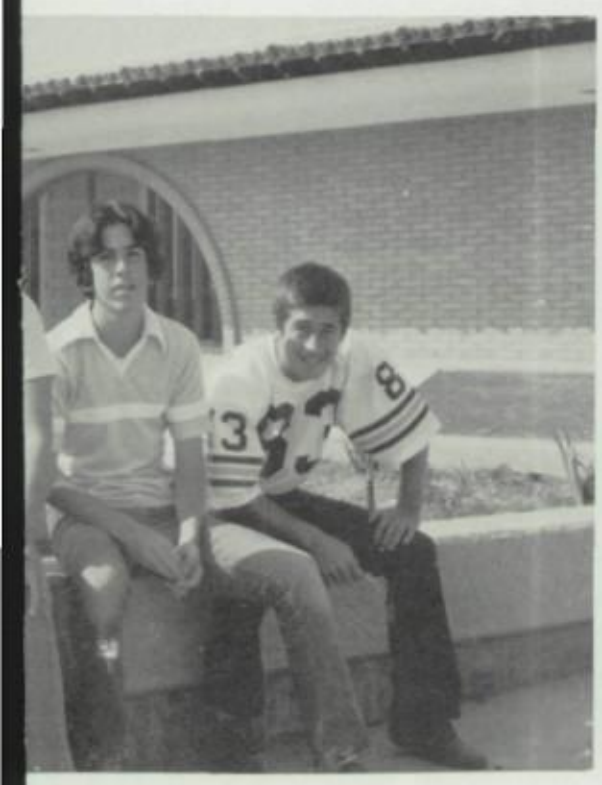
What did we do?

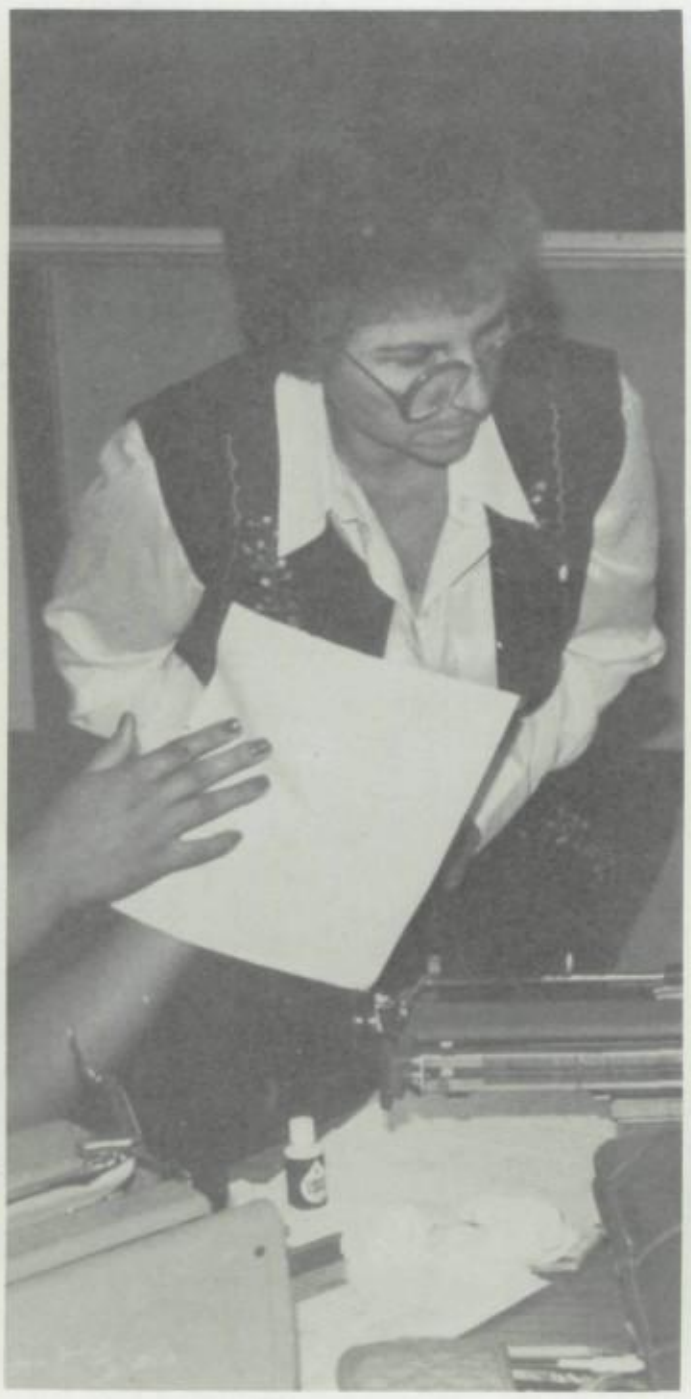
The yearbook staff has captured the live excitement, of Don Lugo students at work, at play, their moments of happiness, frustration, and craziness. In this book you can look back at your high school events, memories of friends, boy friends or girl friends, football games, dances, and everyday life on Don Lugo campus.

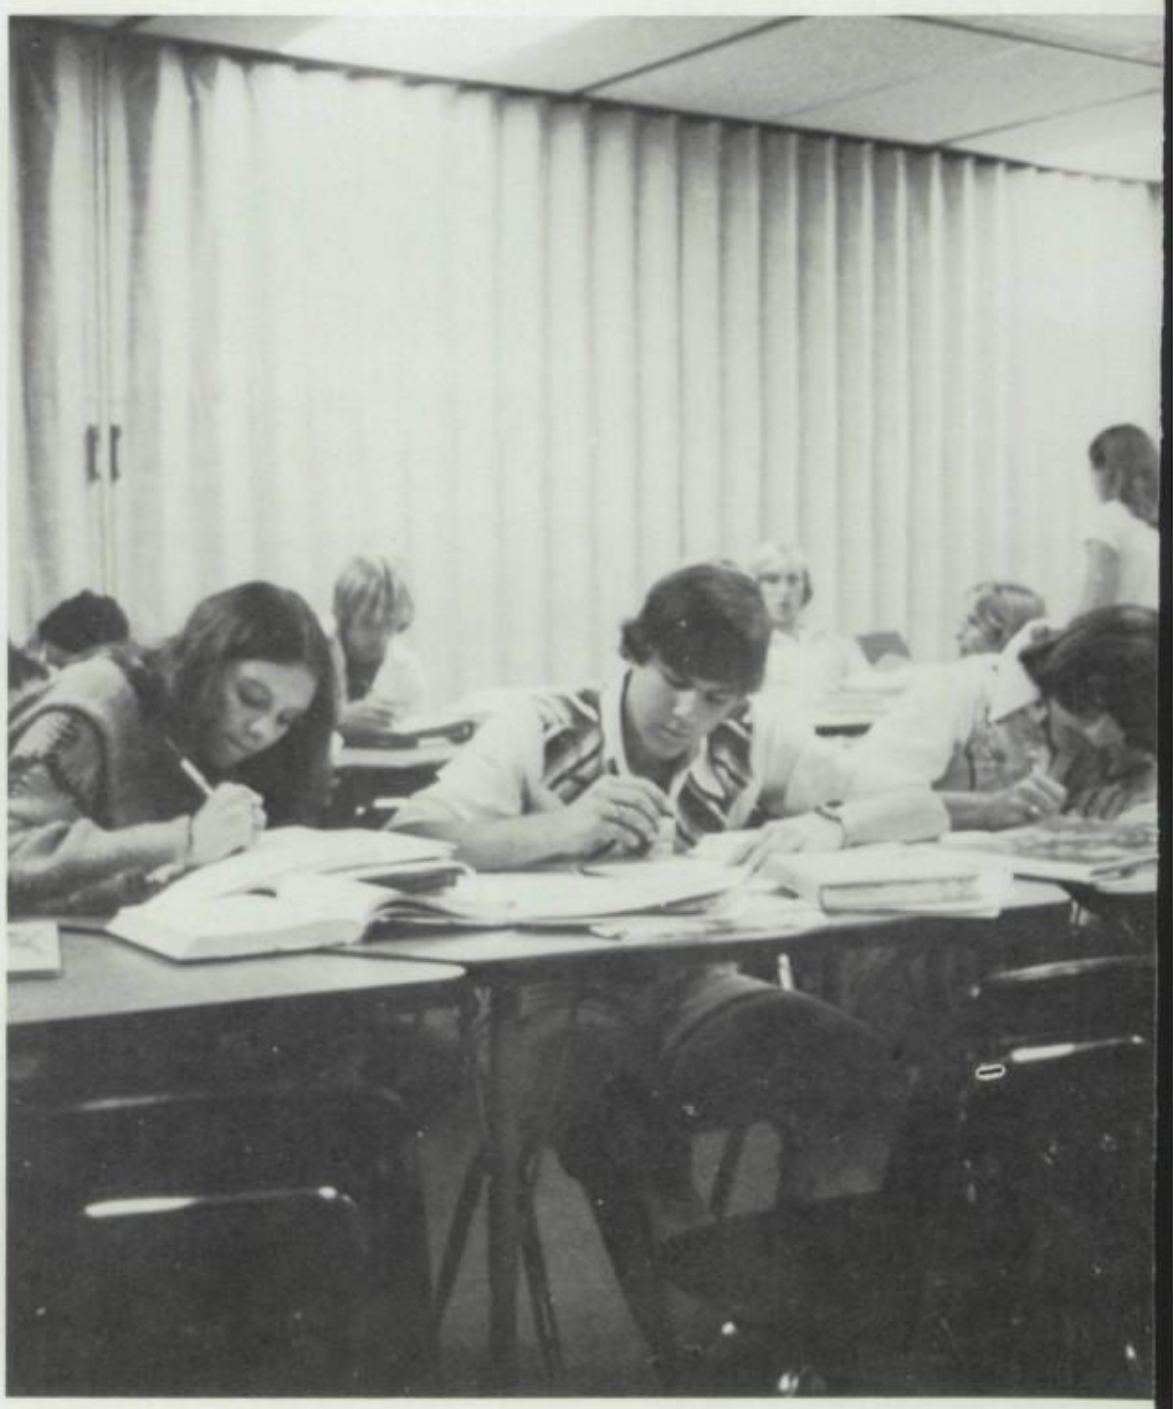
The REAL YEARBOOK CLASS!

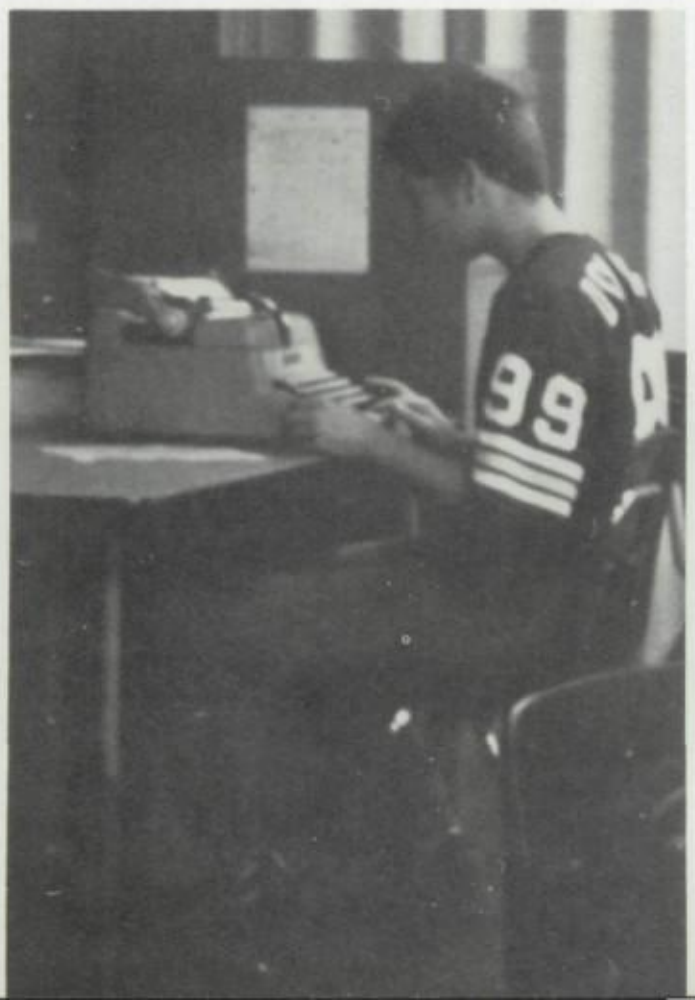
It can be found under deadlines, Mr. Gomez's screaming voice, Bobbie's destructive pen, and Belinda's attendance. The average yearbook student does not spend one hour a day, it is more like 300 hours a year. The photographers go all over Southern Calif. to take pictures connected to Don Lugo. The rest of the staff practically risks their necks trying to meet deadlines without their editors coming down on them like a ton of bricks. The copy people go crazy trying to think what to say for pictures, advertisement people never seem to be in class, they always seem to have cars that just have to go places to see if the owners would like to advertise its name in the yearbook. Lunch is a regular thing in the class at deadline time, because you can't get away, Gomez won't let you. But what most of us like is that he will also keep you out of your other classes. That's the real yearbook class!



quest ''quests'' after news







An exciting new addition has been added to DAL, and it's not a new building. It's DAL's first school magazine. Under the advisement of Mrs. Betty Blank, DAL student reporters have been turned loose on campus and off, to find entertaining and informative news, feature, editorial, and sports items, that will keep DAL students up to date on happenings on campus and in the community.

The Quest staff, while writing their own stories also design all the artwork, solicit Chino area businesses for adds, shoot and develop their own pictures, and manage the finances.

Staff members were selected from Mrs. Blank's Introduction to Writing classes, and the Editors-in-chiefs Jerry Spotswood and Brenda Olsen were elected by the staff members.

"It's hard work," says Robert Begley, sports editor, "because if you misquote someone you could be in big trouble, but it's worth it just to see your name in print."

rallies really are fun!

The imaginations of Mrs. Barbera Smith, activities director, the associated student body, the leadership class, and other ambitious students are never endless. They are responsible for the rallies.

The rallies are very talked about, and looked forward to. You could feel down about the low grade you received on a test, or just feel blah, but by going to a rally your spirits will be lifted. There's always a lot of fun and excitement, and never a dull moment.

dal chorus grows

Both Don Lugo and chorus have grown together. Under the direction of Miss Betsy Bowering the girls have achieved a lot. They have performed at Open House, Christmas and Spring concerts and other school activities. Chorus has expanded their dimension in sound, with the two new groups "Singers" and "Sounds of Gold". They practice singing and dancing and also study how to read music. After three years of expansion and determination they have grown to be a mature chorus. The members of Sounds of Gold are: Becky Armstrong, Lisa Cox, Brenda Vela, Tina Gajoli, Kelly Carvo, Audry Simpson, Dawn Kology, Cecil Robertson, and Diane Waterman.

song sings of pride

The songleaders may only be in their second year of existence at Don Lugo, but by cooperating with the cheerleaders, DAL has a very impressive cheering squad. The songleaders can be identified at the games by their big yellow pom poms and their dancy moves. They perform during the football and basketball games and at the rallies.

The songleaders, under the direction of Miss Robin Brinderson, also make up dance routines and go to competition against other schools. Thanks to the cheer and songleaders for giving DAL a bit more pride and spirit.

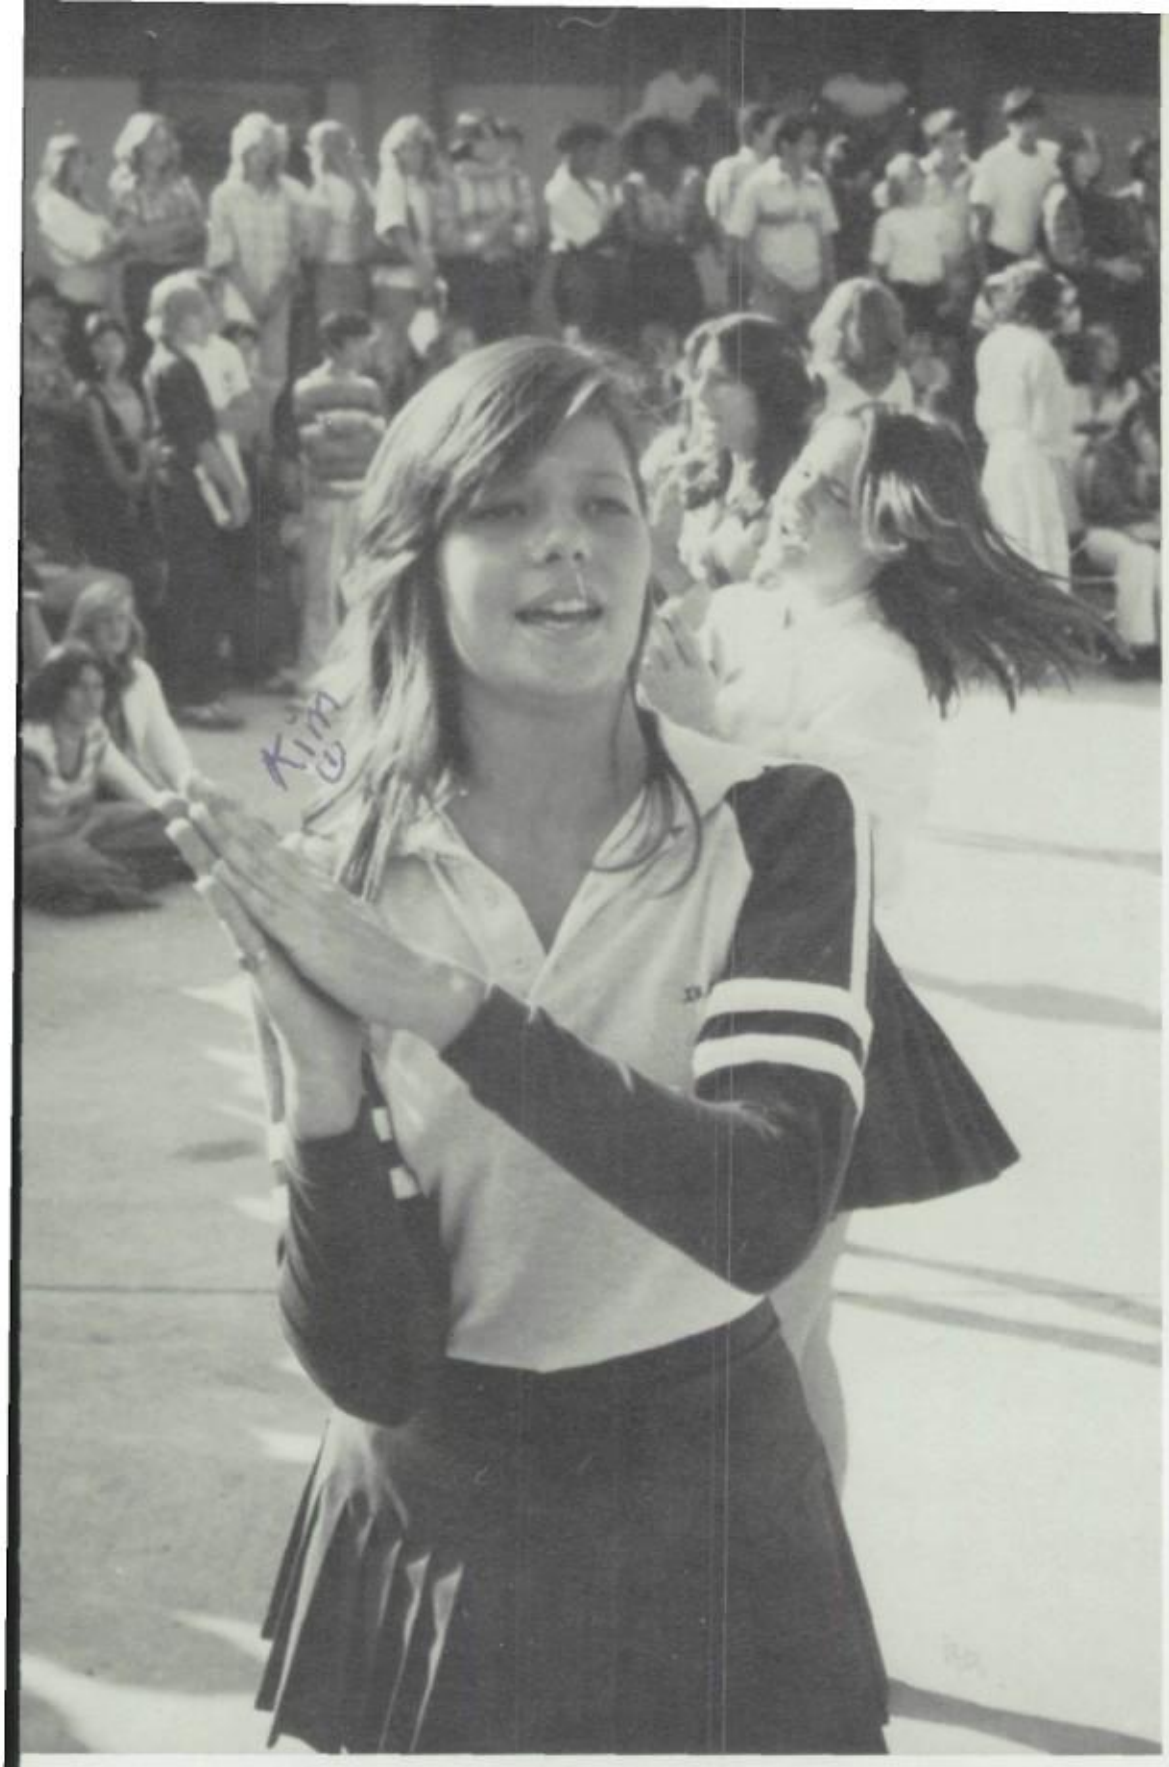
j.v. and frosh. cheer add sparkle



The junior varsity and the freshman cheerleaders have added a lot of color to the j.v. and frosh. football games and rallies during 1978-79.

The junior varsity cheerleaders are: Head Leaders, Conny Sattler and Becky Balidoy, Irma Caldera, Lori Smith, Lori Kilcrease, Kim Anderson, and Judy Harp.

The freshman cheerleaders are: Terri Diaz, Raylin Green, Kari Smith, and Lillian Stoltz.

Kim Anderson, j.v. cheerleader, feels there's some friendly competition between the junior varsity cheer squad, and the varsity squad, but they all agree the main thing is to cheer the DAL Conquistadores team on to victory.

The year 1978-'79 was an excellent year for the drill team. The team performed at many parades, halftimes shows, dance competitions and rallies. The team is under the advisment of Mrs. J. Kennedy. The leaders are Xan Bustamente, Coco Bonadurer and Rhonda Euclund. DAL Drill consists of six ranks, six files, one rank of tall flags, and eight girls carring banners in the front of the band. The banners say "Don Lugo" and when open they reveal the trademark of DAL, "Conquistadors".
The REAL drill team is not all fun and rewards. There are hours of marching and learning new routines before awards can be earned.
After being in drill team, each girl is more confident of herself and is more able to choose for herself what she really likes to do. Each girl by participating in drill team shows her pride and spirit for DAL.

A marching band is something new for Don Lugo. DAL has always had a band, but now the band students have the privilege of putting on brand new uniforms and going into competition against other schools.

Right now the band isn't very big in size, but in quality it's enormous. The band is directed by Mr. Don Southworth, and led by Margaret Droug, DAL's first drum major.

Being in band involves a tremendous amount of work. The band students spend hours after school playing the same songs over and over while marching through the streets. It takes special students to go through these practices needed to perform in front of others, and be good enough to hold their heads high.

Each student involved in band should be proud to be setting these traditions for other DAL band students in the years to come.

When interviewed shortly after the Ontario Jaguar Game, Coach Monger had these feelings about the Don Lugo Varsity Football Team: When asked what he thinks about the schedule, he commented, "Tough since we're only Juniors playing seniors, we have been doing great so far, with a 3-1 game record, but there's still tough teams to come." Coach Monger feels that the teams progress has been good, but he'd like to see less accidents and injuries.

The football players are well-mannered and their attitude is great, but sometimes they can be quite radical, he feels the Football Players are on a Father/son level and that they are "ONE BIG HAPPY FAMILY"

This season the J.V. and Frosh Football teams have been working hard.

The J.V. team has many players whom often help the team a lot. Pat Benites and D.J. Santos are often in the action. They have 2 wins and having a rough time, the Freshmen is again having a great season. Th e Quarterback Paul Kryzsiak does a very good job, the frosh team has it all together once again.

striding to the thrill of victory

The cross country coached by Mr. Smith, had a successful year, Cross Country is a very demanding sport and in order to be good you have to work hard. The members on the team did just that, they pushed themselves past their limit, and it really paid off. The cross country team was in the action all year long. Tyrone Ledford, Freshman, explained "We're really a close team."

dal v-basketball bounces their way to victory.

In the 1977-78 basketball season the varsity basketball team had the honor of participating in the CIF post season basketball tournament. Since the Ques finished among the top eight teams in the CIF small school division Coach Bryce Gharring was understandably excited about the prospect for this years team. Although the Que cagers have had an up and down season this year, there is a strong possibility they will qualify for the 2A CIF post season tournament.

Woes, add to joys and the minor partners of the Varsity basketball team suffered a so-so season. However, it was not an entire loss because the players who practiced long and hard are looking forward to berths on the upper division team next year. Coach Brown was very enthusiastic about the abilities of many of these young players and he predicts that the future of Don Lugo's basketball hopes rest on their strong shoulders. Those who participated showed the strong Don Lugo pride by giving it all they had and showing that we are really number one in everyway.

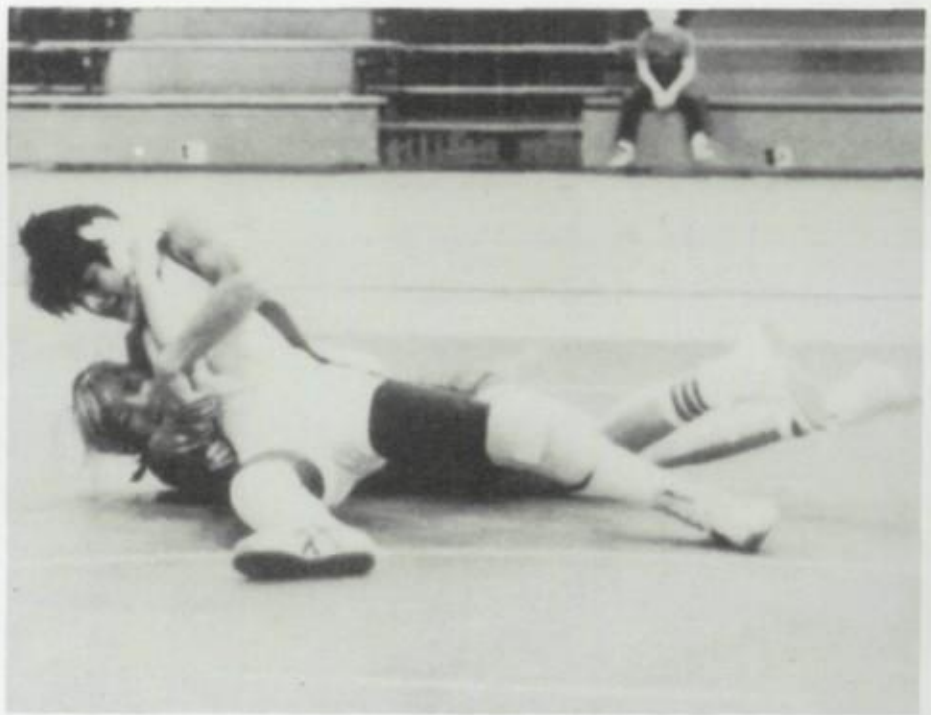
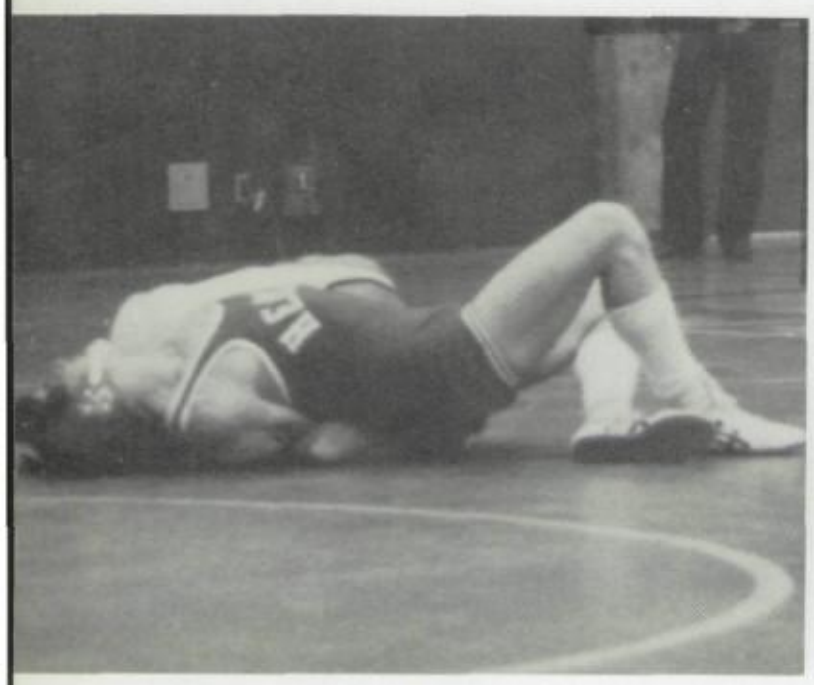
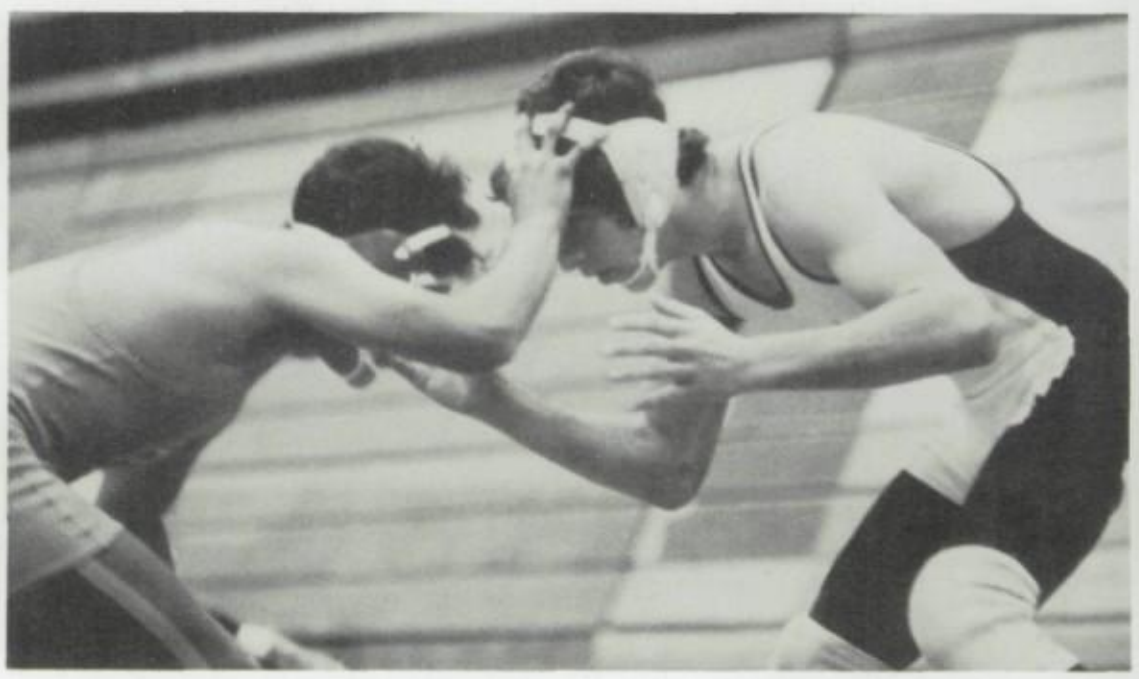
varsity wrestling succeeds in the pit.







The varsity wrestling team did a great job this past year. Their first duel meet was lost to Los Altos, but they kept working harder and harder, and by their next meet at the Hemet Five-Way, they placed 2nd. When they visited the Northview Tournament, they finished 10th out of twenty-six teams. In league they won their first three meets over Gladstone, San Dimas and Bonita.

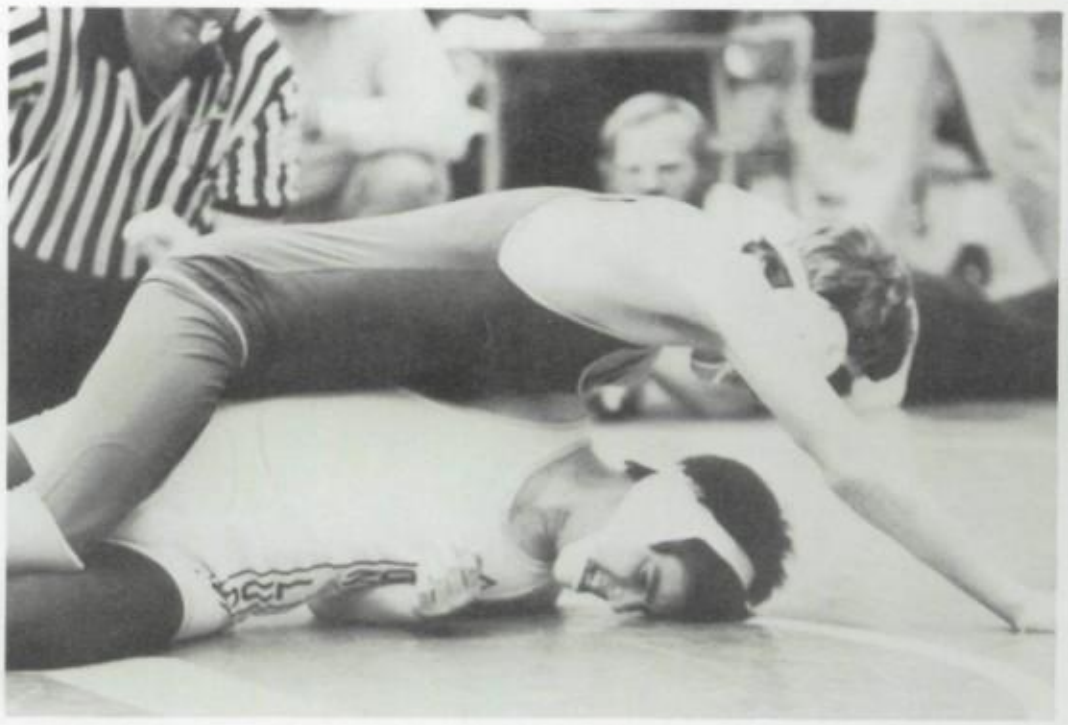
the pit is the place to be j.v.

The JV wrestling squad is full of pride and talent. These wrestlers are all working for positions on the Varsity squad so the competition is generally fierce and the quality of wrestling is good. These guys go out and work hard not only to win, but to please the coaches and earn a spot on the Varsity. They grunt, groan, strain, and suffer for the good of the team.



The wrestlers have worked long hard hours conditioning themselves for the outrageous pace of the sport. They often get cuts, bruises, and burns from the mat, the other wrestler and even themselves. They don't feel that they are in the shadow of the Varsity. The JV wrestlers are holding up the strong tradition of DAL Grapplers and they're in a class all by themselves.

"v-soccer gets its kicks"

The Don Lugo varsity soccer team has had the best season ever in 1979. They have earned their way to the C.L.F. finals and have a good possibility of winning the whole thing. Soccer here at Don Lugo is becoming a very big sport with the student. The coach Mr. Becorril is really pleased with the performance of the team and is hoping to stay at the top.

Junior varsity soccer had its best year since soccer became a major sport at Don Lugo High School. The team finished in second place in the Hacienda league with a record of seven wins, and five losses and two ties. Coach Smith was more than pleased with his team's performance and he felt that the whole team had improved tremendously. He only felt sorry that so many of these good J.V. players would go to the varsity next year, but varsity depends on the strong performances shown at the J.V. level.

Being a swimmer for Don Lugo is very unique. These students are very enthusiastic about swimming, even though laps can be very boring each girl enjoys it, because it is very rewarding to know that you may not have been first, you did your best. The goal of every swimmer is to reach CIF. Swimmers who want to qualify for CIF must equal or better the time standards set, in any dual, triangular, or CIF-SS sanctioned swim meet or in the CIF-SS Free Lance swim meet. Before CIF rolls around each girl goes to many work outs improving form, style and time. Most girls who come out are beginners, who have never before swam in com etition. During their first week of practice they learn freestyle, which in one of four strokes. The other three which they hope to accomplish are: Breaststroke, Backstroke, and Butterfly. Under the coaching of Jack Copposs these girls seek to break records previously set by Lugo swimmers. Broken records are forgotten with watered-down-lungs and muscles pain, records have been broken. When there is a meet each swimmer struggles through the water breathing more water than air and racing other schools which seem impossible to beat.

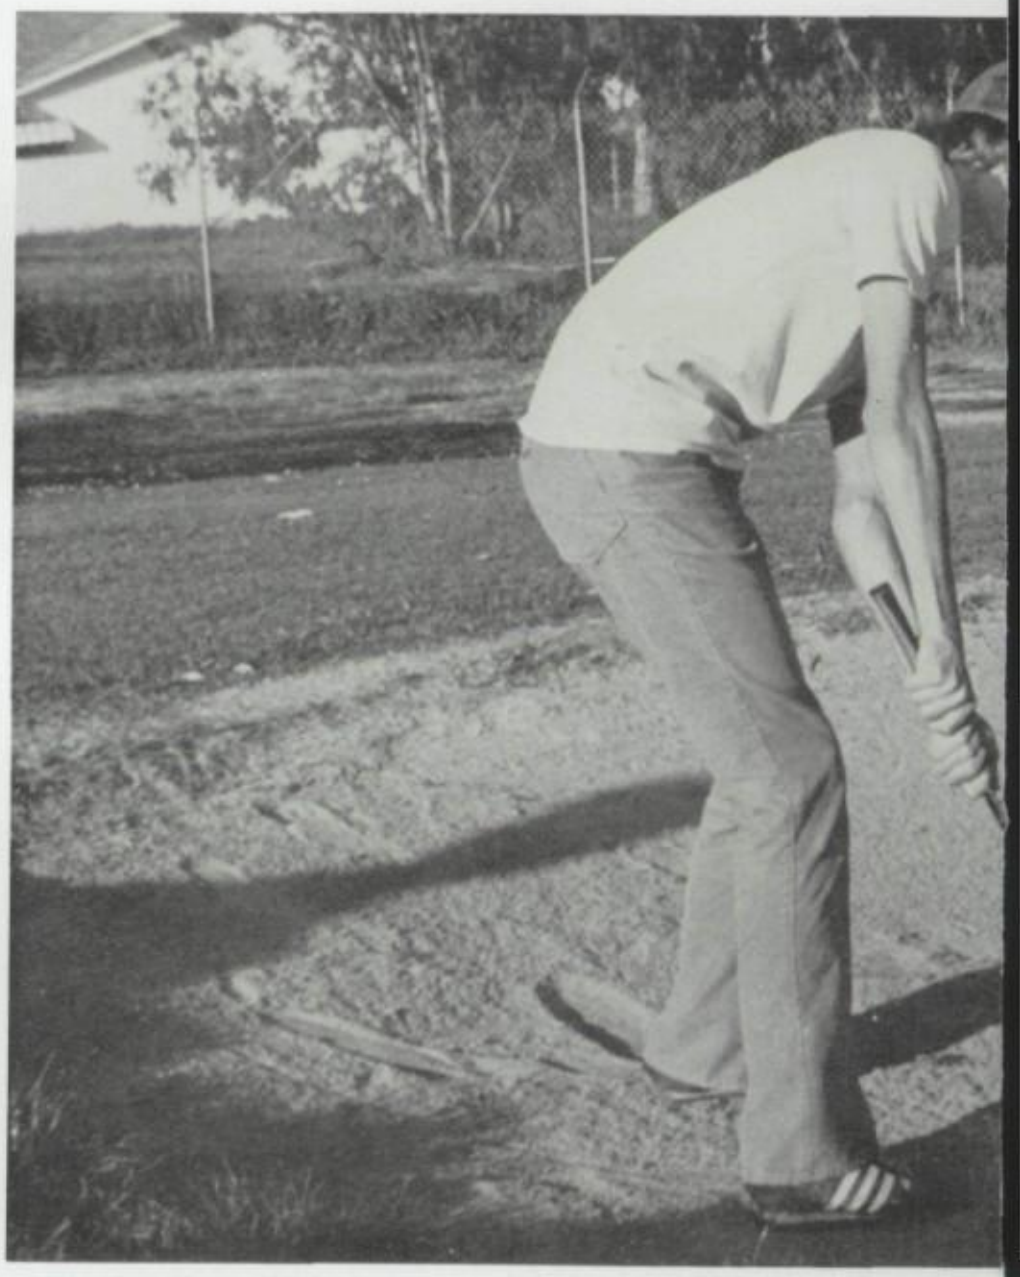
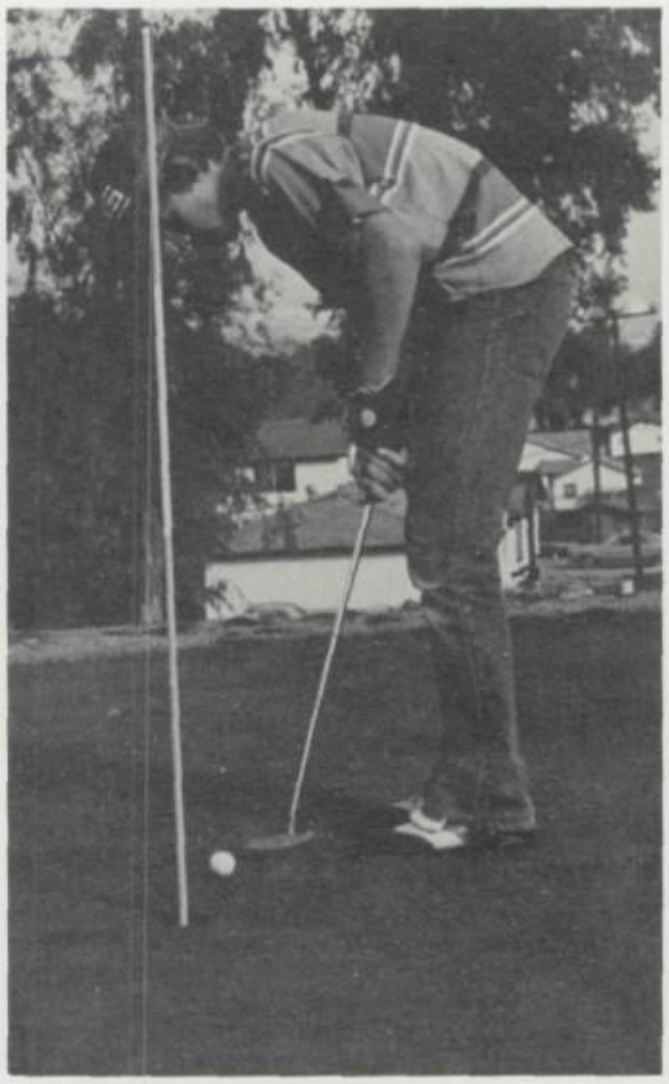
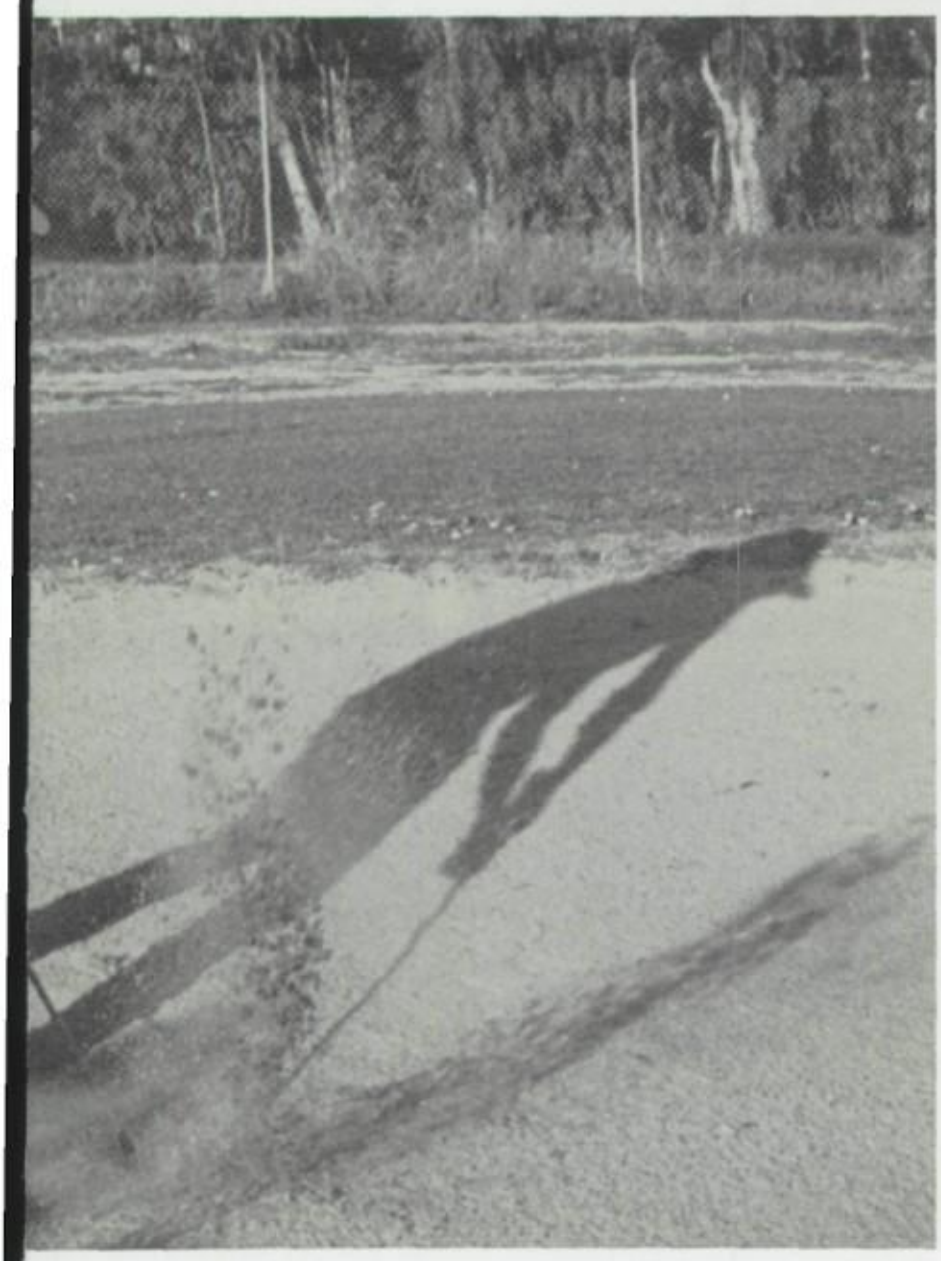
golfers get in the swing







Golf team playing six to twelve players looks forward to a prosperous season. Their goal being to go to CIF. Golf being an unpublicized sport and attracts few spectators. Due to cut backs they must provide their own balls, clubs, and transportation, yet they all seem to enjoy it. "It always presents a new challenge because the course changes." replied Frank Schelbauer when asked why he likes golf.

Los Serranos being their home course and practice course, use donated, they all try to get lower scores (being the lower the better). Supported by Coach Aides the team gets along good and works together.

track springs into hacienda league

Being in track is very unique. Track is not a glorious sport. It's really sweat, pain, breathlessness, and sore feet. It also carries with it nausea and headaches. Don Lugo track team consists of many dedicated young students who spend endless hours of practice each day after school. During practice many track stars hope that someday of participating in the Olympics. But in reality it's back to lousy homework which must be accomplished to be a member of Lugo's track team. Tragedy strikes when you suffer a sprained ankle or wrist. Dealing with these problems with the help of Andu the trainer and many careful exercises a runner endures to improve and strengthen the injury so he can run or throw faster and farther than his opponents. Even though running laps are sometimes boring, they are necessary to build the endurance and drive needed to become the best.

Hitting homeruns with bases loaded or catching fly balls are just a couple of things the J.V. team specializes in. With Coach Morretti driving them on, they learn to step into the ball, charge grounders, and throw hard to the base. They strive to achieve excellence and develop their skills enough to move up to the varsity team. Team work, pride and excitement are all part of all J.V. team that also wants to win, but until the day the success arrives, the J.V. team is as exciting as the old Brooklyn Dodgers used to be with lots of miscues and runners doubled up on the same base while coaches and fans jump up and down screaming to the top of their lungs!

This year's softball team burst into an exciting beginning as the team enthusiastically jumped into the new season. "Get High"

in memory

When school resumed after the Christmas holidays, many students, received a shock, and those who had auto shop knew that the class wouldn't be the same. John William Devine, the auto shop teacher, died of heart failure December 26, 1978 at the age of fifty-one.

Although Devine taught here at DAL for only a few months many who got to know him, liked and respected him. Even though many students didn't know him, we all share in his loss.

Devine was originally from Des Moines, Iowa. He came to California to further his teaching profession at Baldy View ROP School. He resided in Rancho Cucomoga for twenty-six years. Boating and water skiing were his favorite hobbies. Earlier in his life he served during World War II in the U.S. Navy.

He is survived by his two sons Doug and Mark, his parents Reverend and Mrs. O.B. Devine, a sister, Mrs. Carol Kennedy, parentbrother, George Devine of Des Moines, Iowa.

Throughout the past three years I have seen many changes in this school. All have worked hard to make this school work. The students have patiently dealt with the inconvience of the construction. Setting the trend for future classes DAL's first few classes have done their best.

The yearbook has been doing its best to continually produce a better book. Yes, it does have its mistakes but it was made with the heart and soul of those working on it. Several from the class have spent weekends, vacations, and after school working to meet deadlines and make it just a little better. Credit for this book should not only go to the staff and Mr. Gomez, advisor, but to the teachers who let students out of their classes to work on the book, to our publishing company, Herff Jones, and our representative, Konnie Krislock, also to the people who make this school what is represented in the pages of this book. It could not have been done without all these people and I would like to give them all special thanks. The year has been fun. I have greatly enjoyed being editor of this book and have tried my best to do a good job. There have been hard times but those who worked hard and stuck with it brought it together. I again would like to thank those who tried and did their part. I would also like those who did not do their share to feel badly about copping out on the rest of the staff, and they know who they are.

Just one last note, I hope that next year will be even better and that we can have as much fun as we did this year.

Thank you,

Bobbie Schelbauer
